Q: I cannot control my lower denture, even with a lot of Poligrin in it. What can I do?

A: There is a solution for you and all the folks like you who struggle with their lower denture.

Snap-in lower denture

Ask The Dentist

secured by mini implants is the answer. These are much less expensive than full size implants and easier to place.

They are placed in one day and immediately go to work. Many times I am able to use the current denture so there is no additional expense. Because of their small size, there is little to no discomfort following their placement.

I have placed hundreds of Mini Implants over the past ten years and my patients love them.
