

Dr. Ron Dillow

Q: I have had my upper denture repaired several times over the past year and a half. Another tooth has fallen out and it is 10 years old. Should I repair or get a new one?

A: This can be a difficult decision to make. Certainly the cost of a new denture is higher than the cost of repair, but multiple repair costs do add up. Multiple repairs are usually due to improper fit or stress over time.

Ask The Dentist

The age of a denture is a factor in considering replacement, and also how well it fits and works. Some people need their denture replaced every 5-7 years due to fit and chewing changes while others can go longer. I offer free repairs to the old denture for patients who decide to start a new denture.

Here at Today's Dental Care the focus is on you, your health and your comfort. If you are having dental problems or questions, please call 345-8333 now to receive a complimentary consultation. You may also direct your questions to Dr. Dillow or view our article archive at drdillowtodaysdentalcare.net

Accepting New Patients!

todaysdentalcare.net

PAID ADVERTISEMENT